

Does Delta give an AARP discount?

Yes, Delta Air Lines offers AARP members special discounts on select flights. These savings typically range from 5% to 10% off the base fare on domestic and international routes. To access the discount, AARP members must book through Delta's AARP page or enter their membership number during booking. Offers may vary by route and travel dates, so it's best to check Delta's official AARP travel page for current deals.

Delta Air Lines does not offer a direct, standard AARP discount on flights, but members can secure savings by booking through the AARP Travel Center powered by Expedia, which often provides exclusive rates and waives booking fees. While no direct discount exists, seniors 65+ may find special, limited, or negotiated fares by calling Delta directly.

Does Delta SkyMiles charge a fee?

Delta SkyMiles membership is free —there's no cost to join or maintain an account. Members earn miles when flying with Delta or its partner airlines, as well as through credit cards and other partners. While accumulating miles has no fees, redeeming them can sometimes involve costs. Taxes, airport fees, and carrier-imposed surcharges may apply when booking award flights. Additionally, certain changes or cancellations to award tickets may incur fees depending on the fare rules. Overall, SkyMiles itself does not charge a membership fee, but some redemption-related costs may occur.
