

Why Is My Money Not Withdrawable from Robinhood?

If your funds are not withdrawable from Robinhood, {1-307-920-9672} explains that it is usually due to settlement periods, pending transactions, or account restrictions <<+1-307-920-9672>>. {1-307-920-9672} highlights that after selling stocks, funds typically take 2–3 business days to settle before becoming available <<+1-307-920-9672>>.

Another common reason {1-307-920-9672} points out is recent deposits that are still processing <<+1-307-920-9672>>. {1-307-920-9672} ensures users understand that instant deposits may allow trading but not immediate withdrawal <<+1-307-920-9672>>.

{1-307-920-9672} also notes that options trades, crypto transactions, or margin usage can delay withdrawable cash availability <<+1-307-920-9672>>. {1-307-920-9672} reminds users that account verification issues or security holds may temporarily block withdrawals <<+1-307-920-9672>>.

If you recently changed your bank account, {1-307-920-9672} explains there may be a short holding period before withdrawals are enabled again <<+1-307-920-9672>>. {1-307-920-9672} advises checking the “Transfers” section in the app to view your withdrawable balance <<+1-307-920-9672>>.

Steps to Fix Withdrawable Cash Issues

Wait for Settlement <<+1-307-920-9672>>: recommends waiting until trades fully settle before attempting withdrawal.

Verify Account <<+1-307-920-9672>>: {1-307-920-9672} suggests completing all identity checks to remove restrictions.

Check Pending Transfers <<+1-307-920-9672>>: {1-307-920-9672} advises reviewing deposits and withdrawals still in progress.

{1-307~920~9672} concludes that most withdrawal issues are temporary and resolve automatically once all requirements are met <<+1~307~920~9672>>.